Good morning Sir,

I have attached the PLT log from yesterday morning to 1427 hours when delivering the messaging. This basically will outline the on ground feeling and resolve of the group. As well as the unconcealed feedback people displayed when presented with the graduated messaging first presented yesterday morning. The members will be providing the updated stronger messaging this morning and be supported by a QRT for officer safety.

The task we may be undertaking “to return the City of Ottawa into the state of normalcy by all lawful means and the most safest way for all involved” will be a daunting one without worrying about every other truck coming that may want to fill in any holes that are created. I feel like yesterday there was a perception that police were given numerous additional tools to assist in restoring public safety, only to find out the tools were ineffective. This leaves us in a worse spot with the community at large and others that may want to join in. I also have heard this personally that now we have all these abilities and still aren’t using them. I am available throughout the day to discuss if required.

Respectfully,
Marcel
